Gemini Pilots Tired, Schedule Walk Today

Spacecraft Low On Fuel

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — Gemini 9 drifted silently across the heavens Saturday night, low on fuel and luck as its two weary astronauts took a 10-hour rest before pilot Eugene A. Cernan's elaborate walk in space Sunday.

The spacemen got too "bushed" to begin the rigorous jaunt — man's longest and most exotic — as planned Saturday. Cernan and command pilot Thomas P. Stafford abandoned all hope of ever linking Gemini 9's nose with their "angry alligator" rendezvous target, one of the original goals of the troubled flight.

Successful But, they did manage to successfully complete all three planned searches and rendezvous with a stubby, barrel-like target satellite. Sleepy-eyed and tired, the Gemini space twins then asked that Cernan's cosmic stroll be postponed a day.

A lean, 32-year-old rookie astronaut on his maiden orbital voyage, Cernan plans to embark on a 2½-hour promenade through the skies Sunday morning, whipping nearly twice around the world at 17,500 miles an hour.

But, flight controllers said, if something happens that the walk doesn't come Sunday, they have no plans of extending the already troubled flight to squeeze it in. Gemini 9 has barely enough fuel to complete a three-day journey.

When mission directors discovered the two pilots were tired, they kept the work load to a minimum, giving Stafford and Cernan a chance for a 2½-hour nap.

Hear Scores To relieve some of the tension, they took time out to hear some baseball scores. However, Cernan didn't particularly like what he heard; both his favorite teams lost.

This was the final communication to the spacecraft from the Hawaiian tracking station before the pilots powered down for sleep.

"This'll be about all the air-ground conversations we'll have with you for a while and, uh, we won't be calling you any more for some time unless there is something comes up we need you for."

The astronauts answered: "Okay, thank you very much."

Abandon Hope A last-ditch effort to shake the weird-looking protective shroud from the nose of their small target failed. Ground commands purposely sent the satellite into crazy gyrations, but the shroud held firm.

With the shroud attached to one end, Gemini 9 could not drive its nose into the latching device, thus actually parking with an orbiting object. Finally, Stafford fired the spacecraft's small jets, pulling out of sight of the eerie machine for the last time.

The spacemen plan a watery landing from their three-day space voyage Monday at 10:04 a.m. (EDT) south of Bermuda in the Atlantic Ocean.

"Bushed" After three successful hunts of the monster-like target in space, the last after a night of fitful sleep, Stafford told earthbound controllers: "We're pretty well bushed. It raises a question in my own mind whether and when the EVA space walk should be done. Perhaps we should wait until tomorrow morning."

As commander of the tiny orbiting spacecraft, it was his decision to make. Flight directors concurred.

So, with some fast juggling of the often-shuffled flight plan, the walk was postponed for 24

Germany Behind On Purchases

WASHINGTON (AP) — West Germany is lagging badly in its commitment to make heavy purchases of American military hardware. But its offer to pay $250 million in advance of placing actual orders has not been accepted by the United States.

American officials, confirming Saturday the existence of such an offer, said it had been under active consideration since it was made some three weeks ago.

They had no explanation of the delay in U.S. action beyond saying that it was a matter that must be weighed by State, Defense and Treasury Departments.

Not Enough One trouble seems to be that the $250 million represents less than half of the approximately $600 million Bonn is behind on its pledged schedule of purchases.

The commitment is contained in the so-called offset agreement in which the government of Chancellor Ludwig Erhard pledged to buy military hardware in value of $1.35 billion during a two-year period ending June 30, 1967.

U.S. officials acknowledged that the $250 million was large enough to help the United States in its balance-of-payments problems. One reason for the hesitation could be that the Germans might interpret acceptance of the offer as meaning that Washington would be willing to forget about the rest of the $600 million. This was certainly not the case, some officials said.

The German commitment to purchase American arms helps to defray the cost of maintaining U.S. troops in Europe. The $1.35 billion is the approximate amount the United States must spend in Europe for maintaining the 7th Army in Germany for two years.

SILENT SCREEN ACTRESS ALICE CALHOUN DIES

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Alice Calhoun Chotiner, known as "the aristocrat of the screen" when she starred in silent films as Alice Calhoun, died Friday of cancer. She was 65.

Born in Cleveland, Ohio, she became an actress for Vitaphone in New York and later moved with that film company to Hollywood. In 1916-23 the brunette beauty appeared in 52 Vitaphone and Warner Bros. films.

They included "The Man Next Door," "The Man from Brodways," "The Angel of Crooked Street," "One Stolen Night" and "The Little Minister."

In later years she was active in community and charitable enterprises. She turned the first shovel of earth for the Beverly Hills Post Office. The Motion Picture Country House, a home for filmfodder, retired, bears a plaque in her honor. A research wing at the suburban City of Hope Hospital was named for her in 1964 for her efforts in building the wing.

Funeral services will be conducted at 1:30 p.m. Tuesday at Forest Lawn Memorial Park, followed by internment there.

Negro GOP Group Raps Leaders

WASHINGTON (AP) — Republican leaders trying to reclaim the Negro vote in this year's elections are taking a hard look at a new Negro organization's criticisms of party personalities and policies.

The Negro National Republican Assembly (NNRA), which held its first convention in Detroit last month, handed out a series of formal resolutions this week finding fault with most national party leaders from Chairman Ray Bliss on down the line.

The organization, which can boast little present political strength, nevertheless is getting attention because it is about the only Negro organization willing to tie itself to the GOP. It is headed by Grant Reynolds, New York lawyer and former campaigner for Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller, as president, and ex-baseball star Jackie Robinson as board chairman.

In its resolutions, NNRA had some good words to say about a few Republicans.

It endorses the candidacy of George Christopher, former mayor of San Francisco, in his contest for the Republican nomination for governor in next Tuesday's California primary. It also backs Robert H. Finch, former aide of ex-Vice President Richard M. Nixon, in the race for the lieutenant governor nomination.

The NNRA has praise for Sen. Thurston B. Morton of Kentucky, head of the GOP Senatorial Campaign Committee, for implementing his proposal that the Republicans go out after the Negro vote in the South.

The NNRA calls for enactment of President Johnson's proposal for prohibition of racial discrimination in the sale or rental of housing. It does not mention the opposition of Senate Minority Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois to this provision.

The organization proposes Negro membership on the Republican Policy Coordinating Committee and Negro staff members on Senate and House committees.

It's difficult to say how much sleep they got," said Mission Control. "They have good reason to be tired."

The doctors have worried about the stresses of the space walk itself, noting that the first U.S. space walker, Edward H. White II, had abnormally high heart rates during his 21 minutes on the end of a 25-foot tether.

Fear Huge Space Outlays Putting Aviation Behind

WASHINGTON (AP) — Has space program now is costing about $7 billion, including the $5 billion for NASA.

The report notes the competition between space and civil aviation for dollars, resources, talented manpower and public attention.

Although it agrees with President Johnson that U.S. commercial aviation now leads the world in efficiency, safety and profits, the report raises questions about the next 15 or 20 years.

The report notes that the vast space outlays "may be obscuring and interfering with the important and rewarding benefits to be realized in civil aviation of the future."

And it points out that the Soviet Union, England, France and other nations are putting much effort and resources into development of the 2,000-mile-an-hour supersonic commercial air transport planned for the near future.

The United States also is working on such a transport but is believed somewhat behind other nations' schedules for operational use.

Astronauts Run Out Of Gas

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — The intense Gemini 9 pilots — their space ship short of fuel after a grueling sky search — ran out of gas themselves Saturday. Doctors prescribed long rest before Sunday's tough 2½-hour space walk.

It wasn't the machine this time but the human who had to be served.

With Chief Flight Surgeon Charles A. Berry at the medical console in Mission Control, the heart rates and breathing of the astronauts were watched carefully.

Extra Sleep The astronauts were given an unscheduled morning sleep period, which was extended to more than two hours when the heart rates and other medical data showed that the astronauts had fallen into a deep slumber.

Command pilot Thomas P. Stafford was thinking also of the stresses of Eugene A. Cernan, his copilot who will wander alone in space at world-record distances and for world-record times.

He told the ground: "We're pretty well bushed. It raises the question in my own mind whether and when the (space walk) should be done. Perhaps we should wait until tomorrow morning."

The ground concurred, and doctors obviously had a role in suggesting the new flight plan pattern. Beside the morning rest session, an extended 10-hour sleep period was written in for the second night in space.

The first chore Saturday morning turned out to be exhausting. Stafford was flying the Gemini 9 into a new kind of a rendezvous with the "angry alligator" satellite. He was trying to approach his target from in front and above.

It went on like that — nearly three hours of eye-torturing search and rapid, precise mental calculations — and it was tiring.

The night before had been one filled with more disappointment when they found they could not dock with their crippled target, more on-the-spot decisions when their flight plan was changed hour by hour, and finally a restless, light sleep that started in the afternoon.

"It's difficult to say how much sleep they got," said Mission Control. "They have good reason to be tired."

The doctors have worried about the stresses of the space walk itself, noting that the first U.S. space walker, Edward H. White II, had abnormally high heart rates during his 21 minutes on the end of a 25-foot tether.

Oddsmakers Say Reagan Favorite In California

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — After a placid primary campaign, California Republicans choose their man Tuesday — suave, rangy Ronald Reagan or dairyman-politician George Christopher — to seek the governorship of the nation's most populous state.

Political odds makers, in a state that dwells on voter polls, rate Reagan the favorite and expect Gov. Edmund G. Brown easily to top Los Angeles' maverick Mayor Samuel W. Yorty for the Democratic spot on the November ballot.

At stake, if that is the primary outcome: a third term for Brown, or a possible presidential push from the lingering forces of Barry Goldwater should Reagan take charge at the state capital.

In a state that was the scene of a bitter Republican battle as Goldwater fought for the presidential nomination two years ago, the Reagan-Christopher match produced a bland campaign.

Christopher leveled a late, televised broadside at Reagan, challenging "a man who moved from the radical left and Communist fronts to the radical right with remarkable facility."

He said he did so only to raise questions that Brown was going to bring up later.

ILLINOIS COLLEGE ALUMNI RETURN—Out-of-state and local I.C. graduates and former students have been attending 137th year Commencement Week activities which began last Thursday evening and which will conclude late this afternoon. Above, two members of the Class of 1916, Fairbank Smith of California (left) and Dr. Carl Gustafson of Youngstown, Ohio, confer with a more recent alumna, Mrs. Margaret I. Caldwell of Jacksonville. Eleven class reunions were held yesterday and this morning in local restaurants, clubs, homes, and on the I.C. campus.

Ky Shows Muscle To Viet Nam Rebels

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — The military government, at least outwardly little impressed by a wave of Buddhist fire suicides, took fresh action Saturday to keep the lid on South Viet Nam's simmering political pot.

A convoy of armored personnel carriers and about 500 infantrymen poured into Hue to reinforce patrols set up by Vietnamese 1st Division troops and a U.S. spokesman said "the crisis is over" in that major spawning ground of the anti-government revolt. A Hue student leader called on his followers to surrender their weapons.

In addition, the Defense Department issued a warning to all Vietnamese youths exempted from the draft on educational grounds that students taking part in antigovernment demonstrations or other political activity henceforth will be conscripted for front-line duty.

Aerial War Aerial activity dominated the war news. Spokesmen announced U.S. Air Force and Navy squadrons combined had flown 86 missions over North Viet Nam Friday, the greatest number of the year. Two American planes and two fliers were lost to Viet Cong gunfire during heavy strikes at enemy holdings in the south.

Briefing officers said South Koreans had killed 70 Communists and Vietnamese troops had accounted for 14 killed and 28 captured in engagements of Operation Crazy Horse, in the central highlands north of An Khe. There was no word of allied casualties.

Two Buddhist nuns and a novice monk set themselves afire and burned themselves to death Saturday to protest Premier Nguyen Cao Ky's regime, raising the total of the week to nine.

But the impact seemed considerably less than that of seven such self-immolations, spread over five months of 1963, that preceded the downfall of President Ngo Dinh Diem. A contributing factor now is the constant recognition of death in the war against the Viet Cong.

American forces alone lose an average of 10 or 12 men daily. U.S. combat deaths this year up to May 28 totaled 1,705. The year's toll among the Vietnamese armed forces is far higher, 3,882.

The suicides reflect disarray and confusion among the Buddhists, and hierarchy leaders have called repeatedly for an end to the self-sacrifices. The country seems to accept them without much visible emotion.

Rusk Says NATO Partners Will Keep Alliance Strong BRUSSELS, Belgium (AP) — Secretary of State Dean Rusk said Saturday France's NATO partners are ready to take the hard decisions needed to keep the Atlantic alliance vital after French military withdrawal.

The United States has told France, Washington reports said, that it is willing to start talks on practical questions of getting U.S. military facilities out of France, as President Charles de Gaulle has demanded, but wants specific information on French proposals.

British Defense Secretary Denis Healey said in London that France's military withdrawal will make it easier for her 14 partners in NATO to modernize their strategy for the defense of Europe.

He said this was because De Gaulle no longer would be able to veto new ideas as he claimed France had done for the past several years.

Surveyor Still Clicking

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — The lunar tourist, Surveyor 1, continued to behave like one Saturday, incorrigibly snapping pictures of everything it sees.

"It's sitting there like a little bird," said a spokesman at Pasadena's Jet Propulsion Laboratory. "It's in perfect condition."

So far the 620-pound spacecraft has sent nearly 2,000 pictures from its landing spot on the hard-packed plain in the dry Sea of Storms.

Scientists are now commanding Surveyor to re-examine its landing pods, experiment with more refined wide-angle surveys of the surrounding area. "They're very pretty pictures," a spokesman said.

One composite picture released shows a moon rock six inches high and 18 inches long surrounded by smaller rocks.

The scene is 12 feet from Surveyor's television camera and the rock looks like a dry pile of clay not needed by a sculptor.

Constant rechecks of the craft's landing pods has shown the craft has not settled any since its soft landing made slight dents in the lunar surface — a quarter million miles from home.

TWO-HEADED CALF OK CAMBY, Ind. (AP) — A two-headed calf whose four eyes blink in unison was reported "doing nicely" Saturday at the Cash Bottema farm.

"We calve more than 10,000 a year and this is the first time we've had anything like this," Bottema said.

Bottema said the 60-pound bottled-fed calf opens both mouths at once, indicating only one brain.

He said the calf would be cared for as long as it lives but conceded its chances of survival were "pretty slim."

Viet Air War Hits New Peak

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — A new peak for the year was disclosed Saturday in the U.S. air campaign against North Viet Nam. Squadrons of jet fighter-bombers carried out 86 missions Friday above the 17th parallel, blasting at Communist buildings and transport.

The previous high for 1966 was 83 missions, flown Tuesday after clearing of monsoon storms last weekend permitted expansion of the aerial offensive. Though U.S. authorities no longer announce exactly how many planes are involved, a mission ordinarily averages three or four.

Air Force and Navy pilots said they had destroyed or damaged 147 buildings, 19 boxcars, 18 cargo junks and barges and 6 bridges in the operations Friday. Roads were reported cut in 30 places in the effort to block transport of supplies.

Strike Cong Aerial operations against the Viet Cong also picked up, with American and South Vietnamese pilots flying 592 sorties in the 24-hour period ended at dawn. Forward observers said the Americans, who handled 354 of the combat flights, had destroyed or damaged 609 Viet Cong buildings and 50 bunkers.

Viet Cong ground gunners shot down two planes, a Marine A4 Skyhawk and an Air Force F4C Phantom. One of the two crewmen aboard the Phantom parachuted safely and was rescued after it had been hit 310 miles northeast of Saigon in Kontum Province. His companion and the pilot of the Skyhawk, which fell in flames in the highlands 55 miles northwest of the port of Qui Nhon, are officially listed as missing.

The losses increased to 362 the announced toll of planes since the United States expanded the air war 16 months ago. Of these, 107 fell in the south and 255 in North Viet Nam.

Immune Of the aircraft involved, only the high-flying B52 Stratofortresses of the Strategic Air Command seemed persistently immune from enemy fire. They flew in from Guam early Saturday and carpeted a section of coastal Quang Ngai Province with explosives.

Ground action remained in a generally low key. A spokesman for South Korea's Tiger Division, however, said the Koreans had killed 70 Viet Cong in a fresh engagement of Operation Crazy Horse in central highland jungles north of An Khe.

Allied with the Koreans in the sweep, launched May 16, are the U.S. 1st Air Cavalry Division and local Vietnamese forces. The U.S. command announced the combined allied force so far has killed 464 Viet Cong, captured 31 and seized 26,000 rounds of small arms ammunition, 44 tons of rice and 10 tons of salt.

British Want To Modernize Allied Defenses

LONDON (AP) — British Defense Minister Denis Healey said Saturday France's military withdrawal from the North Atlantic Treaty Organization would make it easier for her 14 partners to modernize their strategy for defending Europe.

The need for a revised Allied strategy is "very urgent," Healey said. As he sees it, if the Soviet Union launches a major attack, "NATO would have no alternative to the early use of nuclear weapons . . . within a matter of days."

Since 1954 successive Allied commanders have been under orders to plan to deploy their forces and resources on the assumption of having to fight a defensive conventional campaign for 90 days. This has required them to try for manpower and logistic targets which member-nations never fulfilled.

In an exclusive interview, Healey spelled out Britain's resolve to go on playing a major military role east of Suez — from the Persian Gulf to the Pacific — subject to these thoughts:

A cutback of British power in the Far East, which includes nearly 60,000 men, will follow the ending of Indonesian confrontation after Malaysia.

British forces, nevertheless, will stay on in Malaysia and Singapore so long as they're wanted and on acceptable terms.

Johnson heard a former member of his official family deliver the commencement address, making a plea for more college graduates to get into public service.

At the commencement, the graduates were introduced on masse and Lynda did not have to appear separately as she would have had to at the college convocation where each graduate crossed a fern-decked stage to get a certificate of graduation. The diplomas come 60 to 90 days later.

See Light Vote For Primary In Jersey County

JERSEYVILLE — Some
candidates seeking the nomination on their respective party tickets for county offices in Jersey county have expressed concern regarding the possibility that the primary vote of June 14th may be a light one. A considerable percentage of the Jersey county vote is rural, and just now the farmers have been tearing their hair because of the lateness of the planting season. The question is will they take time off from corn and soy bean planting to go to the polls in the present primary.

With a lull in the rainfall, farmers have planted corn day and night the past several days where soil conditions permitted.
But there are many fields that are plenty wet and some fields are expected to continue so for another week. Some farmers are planting areas in a field that will do and letting flat, wet parts of the same field remain until a later date.

It is this rural situation that has aroused concern among many local candidates regarding the size of the prospective primary vote.

The Democrats have no candidate seeking the nomination for state's attorney. For county clerk there is one candidate, Herbert L. Cope.

Seeking the county treasurer post are three democrats: Elmer
"Tug" Heath, James "Newt" Gettings and the present appointed incumbent, Leslie Shines.

There are six candidates after the sheriff nomination on the Democratic ticket. They are as follows: Adam H. DeShleria, Ralph H. Pickett Jr., W. D.
"Little Pete" Woolsey, Stanley
Miller, Floyd J. Gardner, and Edwin R. Kappler.

O. A. Wilson Jr., Democrat, is a candidate for Superintendent of Schools without opposition on his party's ticket.

The Republican candidate for state's attorney is the present incumbent, Attorney Alvin H.
Patitt. He has no opposition.
Mrs. Linda J. Crotchet is the Republican Candidate for County Clerk and Sheriff Paul Miller is the Republican candidate for County Treasurer.

There are three Republicans seeking their party's nomination for sheriff: Hargiss "Cotton" Maholland, Richard P.
Burrows and Virgil "Pat" Patrick.

The Democrats have no candidate for Superintendent of Schools.

Children's Art On Display At 1st National

The 1st National Bank of Jacksonville again opens the way to an opportunity for the very young people of Jacksonville's public schools to show their elders what their world looks like to them—through art.

The bank's 2nd Annual Children's Art Recognition Display is now on view in the bank's lower level, and will be there, open to the public, throughout the month of June.
All entries are from students in the fourth, fifth and sixth grades, and expressions in their first ventures into serious art are rendered in pen and ink, and water color.

All children participating have been recognized with blue, red and white ribbons within their own classrooms. Those reaching the blue ribbon attainment are the ones on display at the bank currently. The blue ribbon bearers will be further divided into winner categories.

The 1st National Bank will categories: fourth grade ink, fifth grade ink, fifth grade water color, sixth grade ink, and sixth grade water color.

The true art of wearing a shift is in having it fit snuggly across the shoulders
... To do it otherwise brings back the chemise
... And who wants it?

Special fashion note to wearers of larger sizes
... You don't have to be a size ten to wear a shift
... They're really amazingly slenderizing ... And they do have belts ... If you feel you simply must wear one.

Waistlines really move around ... If they're not way up there under the bust ... They're down there ... Add a belt to this lowered look ... And the name is hip-hugger.

In order to be in the fashion swing ... Be sure you sport the sling back pump with its lowered heel.

Remember, fashion is your best SOCIAL security.

This year's favorite, the ribbed "Rich Boy" for the
"In Crowd" Look. Choose from a fabulous selection of fashion colors at Pen-

George W. Lyman Celebrates His 95th Birthday

George W. Lyman of Yucaipa, Calif., wrote a short letter to the Journal Courier last week.

He said:
"I am taking the chance that you would like to hear from one who left Jacksonville way back in 1895. It is not likely there are any who would remember me."

He celebrated his 95th birthday anniversary last month and the Redlands (Calif.) newspaper ran a story about him. The paper stated that he dined with every woman living at Grandview Mobile Estates, plus a few visitors, that day.

"My mother, Mrs. Julia Lyman," he writes, "was matron at what was known at that time
The Illinois Female College, on East State street. My sister, Henrietta Lyman Dawe is living in Santa Barbara, Calif."

"Yucaipa is an unincorporated community of about 20,000 population, about 10 miles east of Redlands. Has about 35 Mobile Home Estates.

"Mobile Home living, my wife, Eleanor, and I feel is the only way to live for those getting along in years as we are."

Before his retirement in 1948
Lyman worked in the accounting department of Mare Island
Navy Yard for 37 years.
Through the years his hobby has been organic gardening and he is currently working on a project aimed at using cosmic energy in food production, so that travelers to distant planets may raise their own food as they travel.

New Optimism Seen In War On Leukemia

Editor's Note: A new wave of optimism pervades the quest to conquer leukemia, an incurable, fatal malady. Each year 18,000 new cases occur in the United States alone, but the delaying action against death's hand has progressively increased in recent years. Here's a progress report.

By FRANK CAREY
AP Science Writer
BETHESDA, Md. (AP) — You'd never guess that the bouncy blonde with sparkling blue eyes who comes here once ago, they gave her only a year to live.

After being treated for some time by other means, Yvonne became a participant in a potentially revolutionary leukemia research program. It features a kind of "shotgun" method of using combinations of drugs. The program is centered at the National Cancer Institute, an arm of the Public Health Service's National Institutes of Health.

It should be emphasized that NCI doctors promised no cures; they say only that the technique holds promise.

After undergoing several courses of treatment here for two months, Yvonne went home to Derby.

But she returns once a month to the hospital for treatments which will continue indefinitely.

The drugs that have sustained Yvonne's life are four very powerful substances that are potentially toxic and require administration and monitoring by trained specialists.

One is "vincristine," derived from the periwinkle plant.

Two others, methotrexate and 6-mercaptopurine, are so-called "anti-metabolites" that "trick" a cancer into believing they are nutritional.

The fourth is the hormonal substance prednisone, which helps suppress the wild growth of white blood cells that characterizes leukemia.

Yvonne's mother, Lucille, who accompanies the child on the monthly visits to Bethesda, entertains no false hopes.

Mrs. O'Bryan notes that three leukemic children who entered the hospital after Yvonne have died. And she says Yvonne's doctors have told her the child "can't live on (presently-available) drugs forever."

Optimism pervades the ranks of government and private leukemia researchers. Government scientists just this week dared to suggest there may now be possibilities for indefinite control in some patients by chemical means.

1. About 100 Americans are alive today, up to 14 years after getting acute leukemia that once almost invariably killed child victims within four months.

2. Two girls in the Washington, D.C., metropolitan area have remained free of leukemia symptoms three years after NCI doctors stopped giving them a form of combined drug treatment somewhat resembling the newer technique illustrated by Yvonne's case.

3. At the National Cancer Institute, researchers have developed techniques for speeding the "screening" of drugs that might be used against leukemia and other forms of cancer.

In the 15 years since the first attempts were made to attack cancer with drugs, 220,000 materials have been tested.

Only about two dozen drugs have proved useful against any form of cancer, including five that are especially valuable against leukemia.

4. "Intensive treatment"—in which massive doses of drugs are given in a short time period, and in particular combinations—is the latest slant. Older methods employed a given drug until the patient developed resistance, and then tried another.

The new approach is based on a concept apparently proved in animal research, that, to kill all leukemia cells, temporarily anyway, you need "to get in there fastest with the mostest."

5. In a study just reported this week, NCI researchers employed this intensive method on an even newer "intermittent" basis for 15 months in a group of 35 children.

They found the children achieved symptom-free remission periods twice as long as those achieved in two previous NCI studies employing high-dose drug combinations over a shorter period. Most significantly, the children did not usually develop resistance to the drugs.

"Although findings are still preliminary, the present study suggests that intensive, intermittent therapy with drug combinations may provide a method for long-term control of" acute leukemia in some children, the NCI report said.

6. Separate groups of Ameri-

Journal Courier, Jacksonville, Ill., June 5, 1966 3

can and Canadian researchers recently have found evidence that cancer cells and normal cells differ in their cell-division cycles.

Hopes are high that this will help solve a tough problem: how to increase doses of cancer-killing drugs without damaging normal tissue.

Specifically, they've found that cancer cells have a short "resting period" before dividing into new cells, whereas normal cells have a long one. And both types of cell are relatively invulnerable to cancer drugs during their "resting periods."

Thus, drug treatments now are being administered in carefully timed "pulses" geared to assault the cancer cells while they are actively dividing, and while normal cells are "rest-

"Old Beecher," where Illinois College's first class met in 1830, is the oldest college building in Illinois. Named for the school's first president, Edward Beecher, the historic structure was renovated in 1950 and is still in use.

Jacksonville Colleges Born of A Dream, 'A Band, 'A Basement

year was 1827. The prairie village known as Jacksonville had less than 450 residents. The "business and civic" districts consisted of eleven log buildings including a court house, a jail and a post office. The streets were mud or dust, depending on the season.

That someone in this remote frontier town would conclude "a seminary of higher learning" was needed is surprising. That this visionary could interest others in such an idea is a tribute to the kind of people who took the American wilderness and molded it into a great nation.

In 1827 the Rev. John M. Ellis, a Presbyterian home missionary, was convinced that Jacksonville needed a college and enlisted the support of Thomas Lippincott, a founder of the community, and Judge Samuel D. Lockwood, who not only encouraged the idea but helped finance it. They bought a site west of town and organized a board of trustees.

Meanwhile

some theology students at Yale University learned of the proposed school and wrote offering to help. The group (soon dubbed the "Yale Band") moved from Connecticut to Jacksonville to teach in the new college and preach in the surrounding country. Money to begin construction of campus buildings was subscribed by local residents and in 1830, Professor Julian Starveant met with the first students in a partially completed structure. Illinois College was in operation.

A few years later, Methodist leaders appointed a committee to organize an academy for "the education of young females." In 1847 property was purchased on the east side of the Jacksonville square and a campaign started to raise building funds. First classes of the new academy were held in 1847 in the basement of the Centenary Church.

This

was the founding of MacMurray College. Although plagued with fires and financial misfortunes during its early years, the school has grown into the flourishing educational center we know today.

The influence of these colleges on early Jacksonville was beyond measure. They brought together the thought and discipline of New England and the vigor and vitality of the frontier. A healthy intellectual atmosphere developed that was rare for a frontier community. Higher learning took firm root in Jacksonville and eventually enriched every aspect of the city's growth.

This page from Jacksonville's past is presented by the people of Elliott State Bank, this year observing its 100th year of service. It is based on a history of Jacksonville written by Dr. Ernest Hildner, Illinois College, and commissioned by the bank for its centennial observance.

'Ignore The Music' When Food Shopping

By KELLY SMITH
WASHINGTON (AP) — Housewives struggling with their mounting food budget can take this shopping hint from the President's adviser on consumer affairs: "You're not going in there for amusement. You can get romance somewhere else — cheaper."

"Grocery shopping," Esther Peterson, assistant secretary of labor, added in an interview today, "is a serious job to get done in the most efficient, economical way possible. Ignore the music. Read labels."

An Associated Press survey of 12 cities showed Tuesday that the cost of a typical week's shopping climbed nearly 7 per cent in the past year.

For housewives trying to save money, Mrs. Peterson, a mother of four and a specialist on shopping trends, has some ready advice:

1. Be a weekend shopper. Midweek prices range 7 to 10 per cent higher on many items.
2. Shop the specials. You can save 6 per cent on a weekly food bill of $30.
3. Plan your menus with an eye on the advertisements. Make a list. Follow it once you get in the store.
4. Avoid impulse buying.
5. Whenever possible, buy in quantity on sale. Buy cleanser this week, 10 cans of peas next week.
6. Shop alone when possible. Leave the children at home.
7. Test products. Buy one package each of four kinds of beans and compare them. Often, she says, store brands are just as good and cheaper.
8. Look for the lowest prices. You can knock $2 off an average $30 food bill by picking lower priced brands. Notice fluctuations.
9. Substitute foods: chuck for rib roast, dry milk for fresh, margarine for butter, poultry and fish for red meat, hamburger for steak, casseroles for meat dishes.
10. You pay high for convenience foods. Think: can I add the mushrooms cheaper? Maybe you don't even want mushrooms.

SHIP TO SHORE AUTOMATICALLY—Completely automated transfer of cargo containers between ships and land transportation has been developed by engineers of Kaiser Industries Corp., Oakland, Calif. Sketched as it appeared in the magazine "Kaiser Builder," the system provides for automatically unloading containers from a ship onto an electric railway car which carries them to the vertical storage buildings where automatic stacker cranes place them in storage cubicles. Containers are then removed automatically from storage and loaded on railroad cars or trucks as scheduled. The system also works in reverse, from land transportation through storage to ships.

Chicago Livestock Market Report

CHICAGO (AP) — The supply of butcher hogs for the four trading days of the holiday week amounted to only 21,500 head but the market was under pressure after midweek.

Best prices on Tuesday and Wednesday were $27.50, highest in almost three months but the top on Friday was down to $26.75. A week earlier the top was $27.

The average price was estimated at $24.95 compared with $24.16 the previous week and $21.66 a year ago.

Trade in slaughter steers was rather slow but the offerings sold mostly steady. The average price was estimated at $26 a hundredweight for the week, compared with $26.07 the previous week and $27.80 a year ago.

The market for spring slaughter lambs was mostly 50 cents lower.

New York Stock Market

NEW YORK (AP) — One big loss on unconfirmed Viet Nam peace talk rumors was enough to send the market down on the holiday — shortened Memorial week.

The big decline was on Tuesday when Wall Street's returned after a three-day week-end. For the remaining three days' movements were slight and indecisive.

"The market is becalmed in a sea of indecision," as one analyst put it.

Analysts said the Tuesday setback — a loss of 12.97 in the Dow Jones industrial average — was a technical phenomenon.

"Analysts said xx phenomenon. The peace rumor was a report in Newsweek magazine that unidentified Communist diplomats in Washington said North Viet Nam had made peace talk overtures through Romanian intermediaries. The White House later said it knew of peace feelers through any country."

The preceding week, the Dow industrials had risen 20.15 to 897.04 — very close to the 900 level which now is regarded as a formidable resistance barrier on the upside. That means stock is for sale by people who had bought at that level and wanted to get out even for fear of another and sharper decline.

Last week the Dow industrials took a loss of 9.18 to 887.86. Volume for the four-day trading week was 20,569,770 shares compared with 31,025,670 shares the previous week. The Associated Press average of 60 stocks declined 4.4 to 320.3. Of 1,544 issues traded, losers outnumbered gainers by 911 to 470.

On Friday, the market developed its only advance of the week. But trading was lightest in 10 months — only 4.4 million shares.

"It may be necessary to squeeze the last dab of toothpaste out of the tube of pessimism before we can look forward to something better than a technical rally," said investment analyst Bradbury K. Thurlow.

The possibility of peace in Viet Nam and of a tax boost were still market factors.

Price trends in the bond market were mixed last week with municipal issue prices declining sharply for the second consecutive week.

The previous week's sharp decline of from 1/4 to 1/2 points in government bonds gave way to a small rally at mid-week but prices weakened a little at the close.

Bunning May Have Giants Red-Faced

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — If a story which made the rounds just after Jim Bunning was traded to the Philadelphia Phillies three seasons ago is true, San Francisco owner Horace Stoneham and two of his scouts must have the reddest faces in baseball.

The story is that the Giants sent scouts Charley Fox and Hank Sauer to watch Bunning, then with Detroit of the American League, and their report to Stoneham said the slim right-hander couldn't make it in the National League.

Bunning, who Friday night whipped the Giants for the eighth time in nine decisions since coming to the National League in 1964, says the only thing he knows about the yarn is that Tigers' General Manager Jim Campbell said the Giants and Phillies were interested in dealing for him, but that the Giants had turned the trade down.

Doesn't Try Harder

The 34-year-old Bunning denies that he tries any harder against San Francisco. But he can't refute that 8-1 log against one of the toughest hitting teams in baseball. The record doesn't show several games where Bunning duelled the Giants into extra innings only to leave for a pinchhitter and not be involved in the decision.

Friday night's 6-1 victory was Bunning's seventh straight since losing his only 1966 decision, 3-1 to Atlanta April 19. Counting 10 scoreless innings Bunning worked against the Giants last Saturday, they have scored 1 run in 19 innings.

Actually, his record is pretty good against all National League teams. He's won 45 and lost 18 since coming to the Phillies, a .714 winning percentage although his major league career total now is 163-105; .582.

Whitey Ford's .705 for the New York Yankees is considered the best such mark in modern baseball history. Juan Marichal of the Giants has a .689.

Buzhardt Blanks Washington, 8-0, For 2nd Shutout

CHICAGO (AP) — John Buzhardt became the second Chicago pitcher to turn in two shutouts within a week Saturday, pitching a four-hit game as the White Sox defeated Washington 8-0.

Buzhardt, who pitched a five-hit shutout against Boston last Monday, didn't allow a Senator to reach second base in gaining his third victory against two defeats.

The victory was the sixth for Chicago in the last eight games. Five of the triumphs have come on shutouts, two others by Jack Lamabe and one by Tommy John.

Bill Skowron, with a pair of doubles, led a Chicago attack that also included John Romano's fifth homer.

Stargell Homer Powers Pirates To 4th In Row 9-6

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Willie Stargell's three-run homer in the eighth inning, his fourth hit of the game, gave the Pittsburgh Pirates a 9-6 victory over Houston Saturday and a four-game winning streak.

Stargell's homer, into the lower deck of the right field stands, completed an overhaul job after Houston had built a 6-1 lead.

Joe Morgan smacked a two-run triple and scored in the second inning for the Astros, and they increased their lead to 6-0 in the third when Rusty Staub and Lee Maye homered. Staub's shot cleared the right field roof at Forbes Field, making him only the ninth player ever to do it.

The Pirates struck back with four runs in the third, three coming on Jim Pagliaroni's homer.

Stargell's homer in the eighth, his seventh of the season, came after pinch hitter Jerry Lynch singled and Gene Alley reached base on an error by first baseman Jim Gentile.

Foyt Injured In Practice Run

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (AP) — A. J. Foyt was injured Saturday when his car ramed a wall during a practice run for the 100-mile Rex Mays Classic.

Foyt's car caught fire, but he rolled clear.

The West Allis Memorial hospital said Foyt suffered second and third degree burns of the face, neck and hands and was in fair condition.

Foyt, driving a car he purchased earlier this week from Jimmy Clark of Scotland, was speeding down the main straightaway when the Lotus Ford spun out of control.

The car was the one Clark drove to a second-place finish in the Indianapolis 500 last Monday.

Foyt's own car was wrecked in the 16-car collision at the start of Monday's race.

Rock Island — MacMurray college entrants set three new school track marks here Saturday as the Highlanders placed 10th among 19 entrants in the 8th annual Mid-East Regional College Division NCAA Track and Field Meet held at Augustana College.

Mt. Union College of Alliance, Ohio amassed 64 tallies to dominate the meet, while host Augustana finished second with 32.

Sophomore Art Hammon had the greatest hand in the record topling day, setting a new mark in the triple jump competition, and running on the standard — breaking 44-yard relay unit. Hammon's leap of 43'3" was good for runner-up honors in the event, and bettered the previous Highlander best by over two feet.

The Mac foursome of Hammon, Bob Leitz, Rich Pincus, and Ron Orr shared the quarter-mile distance in 45.5, their best time in the event.

A 10.0 100-yard dash by Pincus completed the record performances.

Other place-gaining efforts for the Highlanders included Hammon's sixth in the broad jump, and sixth slot finishes by Orr in the triple jump and 220-yard dash.

Boland Beats Teacher With Belmont Margin

NEW YORK (AP) — Bill Boland, who learned his riding lessons at the knee of Max Hirsch, beat his teacher Saturday as he brought Amberoid home a 2½-length winner over the Hirsch-trained Buffle in the $161,450 Belmont Stakes at Aqueduct.

"There is no question that this had to be Amberoid's best race," said the 33-year-old Texan. Boland was born in Corpus Christi July 16, 1932, according to the records. He claims it was 1933 — says he stole a year when he started riding.

"I don't suppose I had more than a couple of horses beat the first time past the stands. But when we reached the three-quarters pole on the backstretch, I had a running horse," he said.

The victory upheld the faith trainer Lucien Laurin had expressed in the son of Count Amber, who was purchased by Reginald Webster from Dr. H. M. Davis.

Laurin found an alibi in his colt's seventh place in the Kentucky Derby, but never was able to explain why the horse was beaten still worse while finishing third in the Preakness. He tried to find that reason by working Amberoid in a sizzling 1:10 4/5 for six furlongs during the middle of the week.

Decisive Workout

"That did it," Laurin said of the fast work. "You noticed he wasn't as far back this time."

Boland went to work in 1947 for Robert Kleberg's King Ranch. The following year Hirsch, 85-year-old trainer of the King Ranch horses, took him to South Carolina as an exercise boy.

Santo Homers Push Cubs To 5-3 Margin

CINCINNATI (AP) — Ron Santo slammed two home runs Saturday, powering Chicago to a 5-3 victory over Cincinnati that snapped the Cubs' losing streak at four games.

Santo's first home run, off Sammy Ellis, came in the fourth inning after the Cubs scored their first run. The Reds tied it 2-2 on Lee Cardenas' fifth-inning homer but Santo's 11th homer with a mate aboard in the sixth put the Cubs out front to stay.

Santo also singled and scored the Cubs' final run in the ninth.

The defeat was the Reds' seventh in the last eight games and dropped Ellis' record to 2-8. Rookie Ken Holtzman, now 2-6, was credited with the victory.

Adolfo Phillips scored the Cubs' first run. He walked, stole second, moved to third on catcher Don Pavletich's wild throw and crossed the plate on Billy Williams' sacrifice.

Phillips cost the Cubs a scoring chance in the first inning when he stole third base and then stepped off the bag without asking the umpire for a time out. He was tagged out by Tommy Helms.

Comes In Favorite Sad Fourth

NEW YORK (AP) — Amberoid, badly beaten in the Kentucky Derby and the Preakness, came from off the pace Saturday to win the $161,450 Belmont Stakes and ruined Kauai King's bid for the Triple Crown.

Kauai King, the odds-on choice of the crowd of 56,000 after winning in the Kentucky and Preakness, could do no better than fourth in the grueling 1½ mile final leg of the Triple Crown for 3-year-olds.

Amberoid, owned by Reginald Webster and ridden by 33-year-old Bill Boland, pulled away in the final one-eighth of a mile for a 2½ length decision over Buffle, from Robert Kleberg's King Ranch. Mrs. Ada L. Rice's Advocate was another five lengths back for third place in the field of 11.

Kauai King, carrying the hopes of Michael Ford of Omaha, Neb., and with more than one-half million dollars wagered on him, missed getting into the money by a neck after tiring badly in the home stretch.

Baltimore Dumps Athletics, 9-0, 2nd Game Called

BALTIMORE (AP) — Steve Barber pitched a two-hitter as Baltimore whipped Kansas City 9-0 Saturday night, but the second game of the doubleheader was suspended because of curfew with the teams tied 5-5 in the 12th inning.

Barber stymied the A's in the opener, retiring 18 men in a row after a game-opening single by Bert Campaneris and breezing to his first complete game since April 24 behind a 10-hit attack that included homers by Frank Robinson and Russ Snyder.

The second game, suspended at 11:59 p.m. under Baltimore city curfew, will be continued from the point of suspension before the Athletics-Orioles game Sunday.

Dick Green's three-run homer in the ninth off reliever Eddie Watt pulled the Athletics into a 5-5 tie. Green's second homer of the year followed a lead-off double by Danny Cater and a walk to Ken Harrelson.

from ages 18 and over. Prepare now for U. S. Civil Service job openings during the next 12 months.

Government positions pay high starting salaries. They provide much greater security than private employment and excellent opportunity for advancement. Many positions require little or no specialized education or experience.

But to get one of these jobs you must pass a test. The competition is keen and in some cases only one out of five passes.

Lincoln Service has helped thousands prepare for these tests every year since 1948. It is one of the largest and oldest privately owned schools of its kind and is not connected with the Government.

Baseball's Got A Few New Tunes

By SANDY PADWE
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
CHICAGO — (NEA) — Earlier rains had washed out batting practice, leaving 25 restless members of the Chicago White Sox with two hours before game time.

Some watched television, others played cards while the adventuresome listened to Tony Cuccinello and Ray Berres conduct a songfest.

Berres and Cuccinello are coaches with the White Sox. Between them, they've spent 77 years in baseball as players, managers and coaches.

For the past 17 years, Berres has been the White Sox pitching coach. He has handled all types: the grippers, the hypochondriacs, the plain lazy.

His memories (no names, please) prompted him to an old bullpen song called "The Pitcher's Lament." It is sung to the tune of "Somebody Else Is Taking My Place."

"Somebody else is taking my place,"

Somebody else is sharing my disgrace.

My arm is aching, but Stan-ky thinks I'm jaking.

While he goes around with a frown on his face.

Michigan State Whips Missouri For CCC Title

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (AP) — Four new meet marks were set and one tied, Michigan State defeated Missouri, 10-6, Saturday night to win the 41st Central Collegiate Conference (CCC) outdoor track meet Saturday.

The 10-event carnival at Notre Dame went down to the draw-out pole vault before Big Ten champion Michigan State captured the CCC team crown with 49½ points.

Western Michigan, Mid-American Conference titlist, had a chance for a possible tie until Spartan Roland Carter tied for first in the pole vault in which all five placers cleared 14-6.

Carter and Kent State's Dennis Steele shared first on basis of fewest misses.

Western Michigan wound up tied for second with Southern Illinois each with 41 points, while defending champion Kansas, Big eight titlist, finished fourth with 37.

Herndon, who leaped to a meet record 7-1¼, was pressed for individual laurels by unheralded Aaron Hopkins of Toledo University, whose 25-6¼ broad jump shattered famed Jesse Owens' 30-year-old Notre Dame record of 24-10¼.

However, Owens still holds the CCC record at 25-9.

Michigan State produced three individual firsts by hurdler Gene Washington, half-mile John Spain, and 440 hurdler Bob Steele, as well as Carter's share of the pole vault title, and the Spartans also won the mile relay.

"Little he knows how my arm does ache,

He gives me hell when the curve doesn't break,

My arm is aching, but he thinks I'm jaking,

Now somebody's taking my place."

In another corner, Cuccinello started to sing, "For all we know we may never meet again."

"That," he said, "is what everybody sings in the shower on the last day of the season."

"Yeh," someone interjected, "and they sing 'After You've Gone' on cut-down day."

One song led to another.

It led to the match game. You match the song with the personality.

"It Had to Be You" — Johnny Keane.

"They Can't Take That Away from Me" — Roger Maris.

"Thou Swell" — Dick Stuart.

"They're Either Too Young or Too Old" — Wes Westrum.

"I'm Beginning to See the Light" — Joe Peppitone.

"Smoke Gets in Your Eyes" — Sam McDowell.

"They Didn't Believe Me" — Birdie Teltbets.

"They're Breaking Up That Old Gang of Mine" — Julian Javier.

"Who's Sorry Now?" — Matly Alou.

"The Song Is Ended but the Melody Lingers On" — Bo Belinsky.

"How Long Has This Been Going On?" — Billy Herman.

"Sunday, Monday or Always" — Stu Miller.

"I Don't Stand a Ghost of a Chance" — Al Dark.

"Georgia on My Mind" — Warren Giles.

And that is how it goes on a rainy night at the ball park.

Cheesbourg and Ruby Injured In Plane Crash

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (AP) — Veteran race drivers Lloyd Ruby and Bill Cheesbourg were injured Saturday when Ruby's private plane crashed while taking off from a small airport.

Ruby's chief mechanic and a fourth man also were hurt.

All were admitted to Indianapolis Methodist Hospital in satisfactory condition.

Ruby, 38, Wichita Falls, Tex., said the plane was 100 feet in the air when it "just wobbled and started to dive."

He said he did not know what caused the plane to go down but a flight instructor, Stan Leonard, who witnessed the crash at the Speedway Airport 10 miles west of here, said the plane took off downwind, stalled at about 100 feet and glided downward.

Also injured in the crash were race mechanic David L.M. Laycock, 27, Danville, Ind., and Harold (Tex) McCullough, 28, Honda, Tex., a close friend of Ruby.

The four were en route to Milwaukee, Wis., where Ruby and Cheesbourg, 38, of Tucson, Ariz., hoped to compete in Sunday's 100-mile auto race. Time trials for the Milwaukee race were scheduled for Sunday afternoon.

Hribar, Jozwicki Cop Meet

Two young competitors stole the show at the Jacksonville All-Star Tennis Tournament Saturday, as John Hribar and Barr Jozwicki combined to gain the doubles championship, and later met head-to-head for the singles title.

Hribar, a 19 year old native of Lincoln, Ill., won the latter contest, after teaming - up with Jozwicki, also 19, to down Jim Coultas and Bob Hamm for the doubles crown.

Seeded fourth in the 13-man field, Jozwicki pulled the upset of the day in semi-final round action by dropping top-rated Manny Velasco. Velasco, winner of the 1965 Jacksonville City Championship, fell to his young competitor 6-4, 4-6, 6-3 in one of the strongest matches of the afternoon tourney.

Hribar, seeded behind Velasco in the field, moved into the finals via a 6-3, 6-1 triumph over Peter Clark.

The victorious duo found easy going in the doubles bracket before the championship match, while Coultas and Hamm, squeezed out 13-11 and 11-9 wins in the early going.

British Amateur Starts Monday

CARNOUSTIE, Scotland (AP) — Bill Hyndman and Bill Campbell, both Walker Cup players, head a 44-strong American challenge for the British amateur golf championship over Carnoustie's grueling links—the course where Ben Hogan won his British Open title in 1953.

Scratches cut the field to 195 for the start Monday.

Hyndman, of Philadelphia, and Campbell, of Huntington, W.Va., appeared to be the strongest of the American challengers.

Bob Gardner of Essex Falls, N.J., and Dick Davis, winner of the title in 1962, from Pasadena, Calif., were among the scratches.

The Carnoustie course stretches more than 7,000 yards. Strong winds from the North Sea whip over the course most of the time.

Walter Hagen named the layout as among the best three in the world. Three British Opens produced great champions on this course—Tommy Armour, Henry Cotton and Ben Hogan.

Hyndman, trying to win a place on America's Walker Cup team next year, summed it up this way:

"You've got to keep them low here. This wind blows like crazy, and I suppose it will keep on blowing all the time we're here."

He's probably right. Carnoustie is on the eastern coast of Scotland. The Bay of Carnoustie is beside the course. And a little further out is the North Sea.

That's where the winds come from—and they're cold and bitter, blowing over the 7,059-yard, par-71 course.

The Royal and Ancient, organizers of the British tournament, named eight seeds—and none of them was an American.

The seeds are defending champion Mike Bonallack of England, Ronnie Dade of Scotland, Michael Cosh of Scotland, Peter Townsend of England, Joe Carr of Ireland, Sandy Saddler of Scotland, Michael Lunt of England and Rodney Foster of England.

PHILADELPHIA — (NEA) — Somebody informed Gene March that until the New York Yankees drafted pitcher Bill Kunkel in 1963, the present Phillies' manager had been the only Yankee draft choice in over 18 years.

"That's why the Yankees are so great," Mauch said. "They make a mistake only once every 10 years."

Bret Hanover Squares Matters In Revenge Pace

WESTBURY, N. Y. (AP) — Bert Hanover squared matters with Cardigan Bay Saturday night as he turned in his 19th sub-two minute mile and won the $50,000 Revenge Pace at Roosevelt Raceway.

Bret Hanover, a 4-year-old owned by Richard Downing of Shaker Heights, Ohio, and driven by Frank Ervin, stepped the mile in 1:59 as Cardigan Bay failed even to finish second. Rex Pick, from the Joseph Saker Stable of Freehold, N.J., was the runner-up, trailing by three-quarters of a length but finishing three quarters of a length in front of 10-year-old, New Zealand-bred Cardigan Bay.

The victory evened the series between the two great pacers at one each. Cardigan Bay won at Yonkers Raceway in two minutes flat two weeks ago. They'll meet again at Liberty Bell Park in Philadelphia next Saturday.

Bert Hanover, who now has won 49 of his 53 starts, picked up $25,000, running his total bankroll to $642,137. With win betting only on the five-horse field, Bret paid $3.20 for $2.

The 1:59 time for the mile was the fastest in New York this year.

DRIVERS DAVIES

REMAINS CRITICAL

WILLOW SPRINGS, Ill. (AP) — Jim Davies, champion midget auto driver, remained in critical condition Saturday night as a result of injuries suffered Friday night at Santa Fe Speedway.

Davies, 36, was taken to the Hinsdale Sanatorium and Hospital after his car struck a well during a warmup run prior to a qualifying race.

A hospital spokesman said Saturday night Davies remained unconscious in the hospital's intensive care section, having suffered a skull fracture and possible internal injuries.

Davies' car was going an estimated 90 miles per hour when it struck the wall. Twelve other cars were on the track at the time of the accident but no one else was injured.

Track officials said they were not sure what caused the mishap.

Davies, three-time United States Auto Club midget driving champion, resides in Monticello, Ind.

He was USAC midget division champion in 1960, 1961 and 1962.

Atlanta Sweeps Pair From Cards

ATLANTA (AP) — Felipe Alou and Mack Jones broke the Braves out of a seven-game losing streak Saturday by belting home runs that powered Atlanta to a 2-1, 4-1 sweep of a day-night doubleheader with St. Louis.

Alou ended a 1-1 duel in the afternoon with a leadoff home run in the ninth inning, and Jones ignited Atlanta's nightcap triumph with a two-run blast in the first inning.

The pitching victory in the night game went to Tony Cloninger, who went the distance for the first time since he lost a 13-inning marathon opening night.

The Braves scored three runs in the first inning with Alou driving in one with a single and then scoring on Jones' fifth homer of the year. They added another run in the sixth when Alou scored from first on Joe Torre's single.

Alou's homer in the ninth inning of the opener was only the sixth hit of the game off Curt Simmons.

McLaren Claims 200-Mile Race, Official Killed

MOSPORT, Ont. (AP) — Bruce McLaren of New Zealand drove an Oldsmobile-powered car of his own design to a record victory Saturday in a 200-mile race marred by an early accident that fatally injured a track official.

The track marshal, whose identity was withheld pending notification of his family, was struck and killed when Jerry Grant of Seattle, Wash., lost control of his Lola T70 and it hit the official.

Grant refused to continue the race although he was unhurt and his car undamaged.

McLaren, 28, completed 80 laps over the 2.5-mile course in one hour, 59 minutes, 16.9 seconds, an average of 100.6 miles an hour.

John Surtees of Britain set the old mark of 2:02:17.6, in winning last year's race.

A crowd of 49,000 watched McLaren win the race for the second time. He was first in 1964 in a Cooper Special. He took the lead on the first lap and was never seriously threatened throughout the two 40-lap heats.

ILLINOIS COLLEGE proposed Student Union which will be constructed on Edgehill Road, overlooking the athletic field. Cost of the building will be about $500,000. This is an architect's sketch of the proposed new building.

IC Trustees Approve New Student Union

A new student union building will be built on the Illinois College campus overlooking the athletic field on Edgehill Road. The college's board of trustees approved plans Saturday morning and will let bids this summer for construction of the half-million dollar addition to the west-end campus.

Expected to be included in the new building are a large lounge with fireplace, a snack bar which will seat up to 120 persons, a game room, a small "quiet lounge," a mailroom and post office facilities, a faculty lounge, a student affairs center, restrooms and a women's lounge, and a bookstore.

Space will be included for alumni and public information offices and several storage areas.

A planning committee has been working with the architect the past year, and has included representatives of faculty, administration, students, and trustees.

The design is modern and is to be built in units rather than a conventional "tent-like" rectangular box, according to the architect. The sloping setting will be graded and landscaped to enhance the area.

The trustees' decision climaxes many months of surveys, research studies, site evaluations, and planning by college personnel and consultants.

The building will be the first on Edgehill between Lincoln Avenue and Park Street. It will be the fifth structure in the block bounded on the north by Mound Avenue.

The Forum, student governing body, is planning special activities programming in anticipation of increased on-campus extra-curricular events.

The new building will replace the present union on the lower floor of Gardner Hall, as well as several other facilities located throughout the campus.

Completion is expected by the fall of 1967.

Invitations have been extended by the class to all faculty members who taught in the 1927-1931 period.

The program for the event is being planned by Pres. May and Mr. and Mrs. Dick Luke. Stanley Ashby and Walter Leake will present memorials.

Mrs. Ramona Gollier will be in charge of all registrations, assisted by Mildred Norfleet Brown and Margaret H. Rexroat. The decorating committee consists of Fredline Phillips, Wilma Jackson, and Marilla Suter.

A smorgasbord dinner at 7:30 p.m. will be preceded by a social hour.

YOUTH TICKETED FOLLOWING CRASH

A Jacksonville youth was ticketed following a two-car accident at the intersection of South Clay and East Morton, at approximately five o'clock Saturday afternoon.

Authorities reported that a car operated by 16-year-old Kevin E. Leffler, 601 Woodland, was proceeding north on South Clay, and pulled into the path of an auto east-bound on 36th, driven by George F. Hoots, 927 Freedman.

Leffler reported that he had looked both directions before entering the intersection, and did not see the approaching Hoots vehicle. A measurement revealed that Hoots in an attempt to miss the Leffler car, had left a 50-foot skid mark on the pavement.

Leffler, who was driving on a temporary permit, was cited for failure to yield the right of way.

Both cars left the scene under their own power.

Kresge Foundation Contributes $5,000 Toward YMCA Fund

Members of the Jacksonville YMCA board of directors disclosed Saturday that a check received from the Kresge Foundation has raised the amount contributed toward the new Y to $326,000.

J. R. Davidsmeyer, chairman of the fund raising campaign, reported that a total of $26,000 over the goal of $300,000 has now been realized.

Davidsmeyer said that the check, in the amount of $5,000, was also accompanied by a letter from the secretary of the foundation, which commended the community on its worth fund-raising cause.

Other checks received in the last few days have included those from OSCO Drugs, Lawrence Mohnan, local manager, $1,000; National Starch of Meredosia, Ted Bousquet, manager, $3,000; Capitol Records, Forrest Dyer, manager, $1,000.

Davidsmeyer commended the local firms, and revealed comments included in the letter sent by Capitol Records, as representative of other letters from donors.

It said: "Your project is one that deserves support not only of the local citizens, but also of the industries in the Jacksonville community."

"It is organizations such as the YMCA that provide an atmosphere for the youth of the community that is clean and wholesome, and which augments the character building during the formative years of future leaders of your community."

"We will be most happy to supply you, when your building is complete, some phonograph records for use in the listening rooms."

"I would appreciate your contacting Mr. Forrest Dyer, our local plant manager, when we can supply these records to you."

"We wish you every success in your campaign so that you may realize the goal you are striving to reach."

Davidsmeyer related that final plans on the new Sherwood Eddy Memorial YMCA building were finalized on May 28 at a meeting of the architects and the building committee.

Copies of the plans are being sent to contractors, and bid letting is expected about July 15.

Wm. N. Clark New Trustee At Illinois College

William N. Clark, the financial editor of the Chicago Tribune, was elected chairman of the Illinois College board of trustees Saturday morning during an annual meeting of the governing board.

Clark, who has been a trustee since 1957, is the third board chairman since 1932. Dr. Fred Hoskins, who died April 20 of this year, had been chairman since 1955. Harry J. Dunbaugh, counsel to Isham, Lincoln and Beale Attorneys of Chicago, was head from 1932 to 1955.

George E. Baxter, retired physician of Glendora, Calif., was chairman from 1932 to 1933.

Clark has been a member of the Tribune financial staff since 1941. He was born in Chicago but was reared and educated in Jacksonville, where his father, the late Dr. Samuel N. Clark, was on the staff of Norbury sanatorium.

At 14, he began working during summer vacations and spare time as a reporter for the Jacksonville Journal and Courier. Upon graduation from Illinois College in 1940 with an A.B. degree, he came to Chicago as a reporter for the City News Bureau, for which he covered police and court news.

He joined the Tribune shortly before the bombing of Pearl Harbor brought the U.S. into World War II. In the war he served in the 43rd Infantry Division in the Pacific, taking part in the fighting in the Solomon Islands, New Guinea, and the Philippines.

He rose from private to sergeant, was given a field commission as a lieutenant, and Munda in the Solomon Islands campaign, and was awarded the bronze star with an oak leaf cluster. He was a captain at the time of his discharge.

Clark returned to the Tribune in November, 1945. He was made assistant financial editor early in 1952 and was appointed to his present post in 1956.

For several years, Clark has been moderator of a television panel program produced by the Investment Bankers Association of America.

He was married to Barbara Ormsbee on February 15, 1941, and they have three sons and a daughter. They reside in Wilmette, Illinois, and they are active in the First Congregational Church of Wilmette.

The Job And Race For State Treasurer

Adlai Stevenson III, who was campaigning in Jacksonville last week for State Treasurer, recently at a cocktail party described the job he seeks as "dreadfully dull" according to a Washington columnist. Stevenson indicated he would have preferred to remain in the legislature but was drafted by Democratic leaders because of the supposed magic of his name.

Stevenson has made a good record as a legislator, but we think he is sadly mistaken in the negative position which he has taken in opposition to Governor Kerner on the proposed Revenue Article. This amendment, while not perfect, would relieve many of the present inequities in our state tax laws and would prevent the imposition of a graduated income tax. It represents a sound compromise of many interests, as a result of which it has won non-partisan endorsement from varied groups. If adopted the new Article would eliminate the farce of the present personal property tax.

By opposing the Revenue Article Stevenson is undermining the leadership of his own party. Apparently he is trying to capitalize on stand-patters, knowing full well the practical difficulties which are involved in getting any constitutional reform passed.

On the other hand his opponent in the race for Treasurer, Rep. Harris Rowe, has taken a constructive and forthright stand in support of tax reform in Illinois. Rowe favors the Amendment not only because it bars the graduated income tax but because it affords a fairer distribution of the tax burden.

Rowe, a Jacksonville attorney and insurance executive, does not regard the treasurer's post as a "dull" one. It is his goal to carry forward the remarkable standard of state financial stewardship set by the present treasurer, William J. Scott.

Every taxpayer in Illinois should be grateful to Scott for earning an unprecedented $75,000,000 through the prudent investment of state funds while at the same time cutting the payroll in his office 41%. Harris Rowe is on the right track in his campaign by asking the voters to endorse a continuation of these sound fiscal policies.

Fitting Tribute To Dr. Fred Hoskins

The noble life of Dr. Fred Hoskins is itself a memorial to the eternal values of Christian service. It was more than merely appropriate, however, for the memory of this stalwart son of Illinois College to be honored in Rammelkamp chapel last Friday on the campus he loved so well.

Fred Hoskins rose from humble origins to world-wide religious leadership. An inspiring preacher in important pastorates, he steadfastly believed in education, particularly in the careful preparation of ministers of the Gospel.

Dr. Hoskins early became one of the strong advocates of the ecumenical movement. In the National Council of Churches and in the World Council he was a trusted leader. The head of the Chicago Theological Seminary described him as "an ecumenical architect whose vision saw beyond the poor divided and depleted church of actual fact to the coming church of the new reformation, renewed, reconciled, and redeemed."

Throughout his ministry he retained close ties with his alma mater, culminating several years ago in his election as chairman of the I.C. Board of Trustees. His loss is felt around the world but perhaps nowhere more keenly than here in Jacksonville.

Dear Ann:

Excerpts From A.A. Pamphlet

By ANN LANDERS

Dear Readers: From time to time I have counseled people who are fighting—and losing—the battle of the bottle to get outside help. I have recommended organizations that offer help, and have most frequently mentioned Alcoholics Anonymous and the National Council on Alcoholism.

Both groups are independent, non-profit organizations that assist not only the alcoholic, but also his family. Since alcoholism has reached epidemic proportions in this country it must now be recognized for what it is—a major health problem.

Many alcoholics, I am sure, are reluctant to attend that first meeting because they are ashamed to be seen and/or they are fearful that they will not get a warm reception.

Mr. W. L. Miller, mental health advisor to the warden of the Ohio penitentiary in Columbus sent me an article from an A.A. pamphlet which he received recently from the British Isles.

Here are some excerpts. It may give some of you the encouragement you need to attend that first meeting.

"Alcoholics are lonely people. They are denounced, ridiculed, damned, coddled and cajoled by their friends and families. They are tolerated, shunned and ignored by the public. They are questioned and observed by psychiatrists. Their loved ones plead with them, lie about them and threaten them. They are preached to and prayed over by the clergy.

temporary release from his worries and fears.

"For this temporary release, the bottle demands a big price. It demands his time, his money, his self-respect and often his job; his home, his family and his friends. When the alcoholic can no longer meet the demands, the bottle leaves him to the mercy of his craving, his poverty, and his self-pity.

"Defeated and afraid, the alcoholic comes to his first A.A. meeting. There he stands at the crossroads of his life—alone with his loneliness, alone with his nakedness, alone with his remorse, his doubts, his discouragements. He is burdened by his worries, a stranger in a strange land, searching for companionship, for something to allay his loneliness, his suspicions, his worries and fears.

"It is cruel to take the bottle away from the alcoholic and give him nothing to ease his sense of futility and frustration. It is unkind to let the new man or woman stand at a first meeting without an effort to make him feel welcome—without covering his nakedness with a cloak of friendship.

"The first meeting is the alcoholic's most important meeting. It can send him back to the bottle and his old haunts, or it can start him on the road to a fuller and better life. The new man and the new woman at an A.A. meeting are everyone's responsibility. Our behavior toward them will determine their choice."

Confidential to Wilted Bridal Bouquet: Of course it's humiliating and very difficult to accept—but soon you will discover that it could have been worse. You might have married the bum. Consider yourself lucky.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Big reason job opportunities are growing for Illinois people.

Illinois companies are spending more than a billion dollars this year for construction of new factories, warehouses and offices. Caterpillar Tractor Co. alone is building major additions in Aurora, Joliet and the Peoria area.

This growth is one reason why job opportunities are increasing for Illinois people. Caterpillar, the state's largest private employer, will add some 3,500 people to its Illinois payrolls this year: 1,700 at Peoria . . . 800 in Joliet . . . 500 in Aurora . . . another 500 in Decatur.

Employment will continue to increase as new facilities come into production in the next two years. In the Peoria area, a new foundry at Mapleton will be ready for occupancy in 1967. The modern Industrial Engine Plant is starting its second factory addition in just two years. A new factory is going up at Joliet. Two new buildings—one for assembly and one for manufacturing—are under construction at Aurora. A manufacturing stores building is planned for Decatur.

To people, this kind of growth means more than "jobs." It means a chance at satisfying careers with good pay—and many opportunities for advancement. More than 16,000

Illinois men and women have been with Caterpillar from 10 to 25 years . . . nearly 3,400 have over 25 years of service.

If you're looking for a career opportunity with a growing company, contact the Employment Office at the Caterpillar plant nearest you.

heart. After his fine start all he had to do would be to draw trumps with two leads, lay down his king of diamonds, continue with the eight, discard his losing heart on the long diamond and concede a club trick.

This simple line of play was not only the winner but it was most logical because it was sure to succeed if West held the jack of diamonds irrespective of how trumps broke and would also win if trumps broke 2-2 and East held the diamond jack.

But South out-thought himself. Somehow or other it did not occur to him that East could have been dealt only one diamond. He could count 10 tricks if he could ruff a club therefore he led a club at trick three. West won with the ace and gave East a diamond ruff. East led back another heart. West took his king and gave East a second ruff for a two-trick set.

The actual diamond singleton was not an unlikely holding. West's three-spot lead was probably fourth best and it could just as well have been fourth of five as lowest of four. Furthermore, the odds were tremendously in favor of West holding the jack of diamonds. Had East held this card he probably would have played it at trick one.

Black Arts Drama

Probe 'Wrongful Acts' In Harlem Poverty War

EDITOR'S NOTE—A 13-member committee of Harlem's anti-poverty agency has completed an investigation that accuses the Black Arts theater mysteriously agency of "wrongful acts" in the use of $2 million in federal funds. The study, which has not been made public, is critical of many of the activities of the controversial Black Arts theater. The following story compiled by a team of Associated Press reporters, gives details of the investigation for the first time.

NEW YORK (AP) — Rejected twice, Harlem's controversial Black Arts theater mysteriously tapped federal antipoverty funds on the third try and spent at least $115,000 on cultural programs including "hate-white" plays in filthy language for youth in the streets, a special investigating team has reported.

Black Arts financing was choked off last Sept. 7 just short of midpoint in its 10-week stand. Sargent Shriver of the Office of Economic Opportunity later called it one of the "disappointments of the antipoverty campaign," and said "no federal dollars should have gone to the Black Arts."

A special study singled out numerous "wrongful acts" involving not only Black Arts but also another HARYOU-ACT project in the $2 million crash program to keep Harlem cool last summer.

Among examples cited were diversion of youth workers and supplies from public "vest-pocket park" projects to private construction, kickbacks of pay, a revolving open-end petty cash fund without controls, unauthorized spending, lavish use of rented cars and station wagons, and funding of imposter "ministers" with fake "churches" and "day-care" centers.

The study was made by an internal investigations committee of the HARYOU-ACT board of directors, set up last Oct. 11. The report was received by the board but has not been made public. A copy of principal sections was obtained by an Associated Press reporter team.

The committee was headed by Samuel R. Pierce Jr., former New York judge and member of various state and city boards who now is with a Park Avenue law firm. Its 12 other members included two other lawyers, two clergymen, three educators, a physician and an architect.

Dist. Atty. Frank S. Hogan began his own investigation last fall.

"Records show that the Black Arts theater was turned down for funding as part of the crash program and that OEO had also refused to grant it funds," the Pierce Committee report said.

"Had the board of directors been keen and observant," it added, "Black Arts could not have entered PUL (Project Uplift, the summer program) in the circuitous manner in which it did."

"The Black Arts theater was made to appear to be operating as 'day camps,' the report continued, 'with a condition which states that only $2,800 worth of 'consumable goods' was to be provided."

But that much was spent for just three items, the report said — $1,200 on men's suits, $800 for rent of a tape recorder and $800 for a rented living room suite.

It added: "From documents in our possession, Black Arts spent at least 90 times the sum of $1,200."

That would be $115,200. Livingston Wingate, executive director of HARYOU-ACT, said in a recent "reconstruction" of summer program spending that Black Arts had cost $95,150.

The Pierce report continued: "Purchases included women's stockings, shawls, fur pieces, men's clothing, men's shoes, four gravity knives, three blank pistols, gallons of house paint, electrical light fixtures, etc."

The Black Arts theater then was headed by Negro poet-playwright LeRoi Jones, who left Greenwich Village to propagandize black nationalism in Harlem.

He founded the Black Arts repertory theater-school in April, 1965, with a corps of about 15 actors and 20 writers, sculptors and painters.

Local Washington U. Student Models Original Designs

Jan Hofmann, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Hofmann, Jr., 415 Woodland Place, is shown here in two of her original designs. Both, as well as others, were highlighted in the annual Washington University Fashion Show May 17th at the St. Louis Art Museum. Mrs. Harry Hofmann, Mrs. Harry Hofmann, Sr., and Mrs. Harry Lee Hall were among those attending.

The fashions displayed were selected from hundreds of designs done by the Junior-Senior classes, representing work from the entire year. Top designers and buyers from New York and St. Louis were among those present.

Miss Hofmann, who plans a career in women's fashions, has studied the past three years at Washington University and will receive her bachelor of fine arts degree in the spring of 1967 after which she plans to design in London.

Jan's evening gown is cocoa brown crepe and tapers to a train. Jet bead detail highlights the bodice of the dress. The western outfit, to take the eye of the young set, has hip-hugging black and white gingham pants. The red tailored jacket repeats the gingham in the printed tulips, combining print and checks. Under the jacket its designer wears a sheer black voile shirt with high neck.

Halstenberg And Burrus

A candlelight ceremony early the evening of Sunday, May twenty-ninth, united in marriage Miss Beverly Kay Burrus and Roy A. Halstenberg. The ceremony was performed at the Virginia Methodist church with the Reverend Rusby Slinkard officiating for the double ring service.

Palms formed the background at the altar for arrangements of yellow daisies and white snapdragons. William Huffman presided at the organ and accompanied the soloist George McDonald.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Burrus, Arenzville route two and the groom is the son of Herman Halstenberg of Chapin.

The bride's sister, Mrs. Charles Ring of Virginia, was matron of honor. Miss Diane Johnson of Chapin and Miss Lou Ann Burrus, Jacksonville, cousin of the bride, were bridesmaids. They were dressed alike in floor length blue nylon dotted Swiss with matching veiled bow headpieces. Each carried a wicker basket filled with pink, yellow and white daisies.

David Roegge of Arenzville was best man. Ronald Burrus, Virginia and Charles Ring, were groomsmen. Ushers were David Nergenah, Chapin and James Burrus of Jacksonville.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of organza over taffeta offset with applied lace medallions at the neckline. The gown's detachable train was chapel length. A double crown of lace, studded with pearls, held her veil of imported silk illusion. She carried a cascade of white daisies.

The mother of the bride wore a pink ensemble with white accessories. Her flowers were white daisies.

At the reception held at the church Lenabelle Burrus, sister-in-law of the bride, Judy Wharton, Cindy Davis, Darlene Maschmeier, Ruth Verries, and Emily Webster, cousin of the bride, assisted with courtesies. Following the reception the couple left for Cherry Point, North Carolina where the groom is stationed with the Marine Corps.

The groom's father hosted the rehearsal supper served at Rossi's in Virginia the Saturday night before the ceremony.

Both young people graduated from Triopia High School in 1964. Until her marriage the bride was employed at the Farmers State Bank in Jacksonville. The groom attended Gem City Business College in Quincy and was employed at Chemical Construction Corp. in Palmyra, Mo. before entering military service.

Among the special guests were grandmothers of the bride, Mrs. Cora Burrus, Arenzville and Mrs. Edna Maddox of Virginia.

The Farm Implement Trials

Our farmers were intensely interested in labor-saving machinery a hundred years ago — a trend that never slackened except in periods of very low prices for commodities.

The "farm trial" attracted giant crowds. Here each manufacturer sent his machine to compete against similar machines. The trial sponsored annually by the Illinois State Agricultural society was a true crowd-bringer. At this time the trial ran for three days and many cities sought the event — and the publicity and cash returns that went with it.

A hundred years ago Jacksonville sent two go-getters to Springfield to bring the trials to Morgan county. They were Jonathan Neely, president of the Morgan County Agricultural Fair association, who handled the annual show so well that the association's stock always paid a 10-15-20% dividend. With him went Moore Goltra, at that time superintendent of the Illinois State Fair. The fair was shifted annually from city to city, according to the highest bid, and the only thing permanent about the fair was the superintendent, with Goltra serving in that capacity ten years.

They were unsuccessful in their quest for the implement trials, but they had a good excuse when they came home, as may be seen from this story in the Jacksonville JOURNAL:

THE TRIAL OF AGRICULTURAL IMPLEMENTS, as reported by our Springfield correspondent yesterday, has been awarded to Mattoon, Coles County. It is due to Morgan County, and especially to her representatives before the local committee, Messrs. J. Neely and M. Goltra, to say that the failure to secure the trial at Jacksonville was not attributable to any deficiency on our part in not offering inducements, but it was thought by the committee that Morgan County was not in need of such a display of agricultural implements, while other portions of the state, where a corn cultivator, a Moline plow, a reaper or a mower, have scarcely ever been seen, may be greatly benefited by having the trial in their midst.

It was thought that as the eastern portion of the state had seldom had anything of the kind, it was but just that they should, especially as they earnestly requested it, have the benefit of the proposed test. Our representatives, very justly conceding this view of the case, did not press the claims of Morgan County.

We wish Mattoon, a vigorous young city, joy of her success.

News, Views Century Ago

From the Jacksonville Sentinel: A fireman's ball is to come off at Strawn's Hall on the evening of July 4th.

On last Sunday night information was received by our city policemen, that a Negro, charged with stealing a horse from Martin Cassel, was concealed some nine miles in the county. Three officers started in pursuit. They found the ebony aspirant for universal suffrage and equality, snugly sleeping under one of the benches in a school house. He was honored with free passage to town and permitted to finish his slumbers in the county jail. It was reported that he sold the horse at Springfield, where the animal was recovered.

STRAWBERRIES — Mr. F. M. Morton courteously placed upon our editorial table, the other day, a quart of the finest and largest strawberries we have seen this season. They were grown on Mr. Morton's farm south-east of the city. We were also presented with two baskets of the above delicious fruit, from the extensive garden of Mr. Isaac Baldwin, adjoining the brewery grove, north of town.

A through mail route has been established between this city and St. Louis and mail matter is now carried every day between the two points, over the St. Louis, Jacksonville & Chicago road.

TO COUNTRY PRINTERS — For sale at the SENTINEL office, a hand lever Circular and Card Press, platen 8 x 10 inches, large enough to work sixteen-sheet circulars. It does good work, and is a cheap and valuable job press for a country office. Price $40.

From the Carrollton Gazette: The large store houses on the east side of the square are progressing rapidly, the brick work of the second stories being nearly completed.

THANKS — Hon. Sen. Richard Yates has laid us under obligations for Congressional favors.

THE CIRCUS — The continued wind and rain of Thursday, destroyed considerable timber about town, undermined and completely ripped open the canvas of Haight & Chambers' show, so that the night's performance was dispensed with. The "Wizard Oil Man," so well remembered of a few years ago, is with the circus as ring master and agent. He expresses himself tired of the circus business, and determined to go into the "Oil" again this fall.

HUMORS of the day

June, 1866

Two men fired at an eagle at the same time, and killed him. An Irishman observed: "They might have saved their powder and shot, for the fall would have killed him."

Said an old toper to his comrade the other day: "If one swallow make a summer, what a tropical region would your stomach be, old fellow."

Time is said to be money. Certainly; not a few use it in paying their debts.

A JOKE THAT IS—REALLY GOOD — What is the difference between the Hebrew idea of a slave and the modern notion of a wash-hand stand? The former is stated to be "a hewer of wood and drawer of water," while the latter is "a drawer of wood and hewer of water."

Why was Noah's ark like a smoke-house? Because it had a Ham in it.

The Portland Argus says that Capt. J. J. Boyd secured a patent which will make a complete revolution in applying buttons to garments. By this invention buttons can be attached without the use of thread. The invention consists solely in making the button with a spiral wire to be inserted into the cloth like a corkscrew, and then pressed down flat so as to form a ring to hold the button in place.

Mr. Dismar, of Upper Sandusky, Ohio, has discovered the process of hardening copper, and has secured a patent for it. The art is supposed to have been lost since the days of King Solomon. The material is properly called "silicated copper," and can be worked without friction. All necessity for oiling machinery made from it is obviated.

A writer, in the New Orleans Christian Advocate says that, as far as he has ascertained, between 1,000 and 1,200 church houses were burned during the war. These churches, he thinks, had cost the people not less than $5,000,000. In the loss the Methodists were the greatest sufferers, the Baptist next, then the Presbyterians, the Catholics least.

Petroleum lubrications do not seem to be the right thing. It is said that a Massachusetts company have had 6,000 cases of calicoes thrown back on its hands, damaged by petroleum oil, which was used as a lubricant on the looms and scattered on the cloth.

The suspension bridge, across the Cumberland, at Nashville, was opened on the 20th ult. It is a structure of remarkable strength and symmetry.

Shad were never more numerous in the Connecticut River than this season. At Haddam Island three thousand were caught in one day, last week, over eight hundred being caught in one haul of the net. The price on the river is $18 per hundred.

Advises from Fort Laramie say that the Indians are congregating there in large numbers to attend the pending treaty at that place. About twenty thousands are already there, chiefly from the Arapahoes, Cheyennes and Sioux. Their destitution makes them anxious for peace.

DISTANT GALAXY Most distant object visible to the unaided eye is a hazy wisp in the constellation Andromeda. This was once thought to be a nebula or luminous cloud of gas, but now is known to be a galaxy like the Milky Way. This galaxy is so distant from the earth that its light, traveling 186,000 miles a second, takes about two million years to reach us. It has a diameter of 100,000 light years.

A German professor has been trying to measure the "ultimate atom." From certain theoretical data he finds the thickness of an atom of atmospheric air to be 3,927,100,000,000 of an inch. In a cubic foot of air he calculates there are 216,000,000,000,000,000 atoms. This is the last degree of science.

A French professor has discovered that the earth does not move so fast as it did 1,000 years ago. The learned man computes that in 1,000,000,000 of years hence it will come to a stand-still.

Austria, Prussia and Italy still continue their formidable preparations for war.

Kossuth is trying to incite a Hungarian insurrection. Austria has three-quarters of a million of men in the field. She is, or thinks herself, a full match for all her present adversaries. Whatever may be in store for the Austrians they are at this moment convinced that the outbreak of war will give them victory and revenge, and deliver the empire forever from the designs of its enemies.

Belinsky Asks To Be Traded Or Sent Down

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Pitcher Bo Belinsky of the Philadelphia Phillies said Friday he has asked manager Gene Mauch to trade him or send him down to the minor leagues.

Belinsky made the disclosure in a telephone call to sports editor Bud Furillo of the Los Angeles Herald-Examiner.

The southpaw said if no other major league club wanted him, he'd be willing to pitch for San Diego in the Pacific Coast League, a Philly farm club "where I can prove my ability."

Belinsky said there was nothing personal between Mauch and himself but added: "I've pitched 13 innings in two months. I'm not that bad."

ATLANTA (AP) — Joe Hoerner rescued Bob Gibson with two out in the ninth inning Friday night and preserved a 3-2 victory for St. Louis over Atlanta, the Braves' seventh straight defeat.

Gibson stymied the staggering Braves on two hits and had retired 14 men in a row going into the ninth. But after getting the first two outs, he gave up Hank Aaron's 18th homer and a single to Felipe Alou.

Hoerner then came on and fanned Mack Jones for the final out, saving Gibson's seventh victory against five defeats.

Curt Flood collected four hits in four at bats for St. Louis but was erased three times after singles when Orlando Cepeda hit into three double plays equaling a National League record.

Pony-Colt League

John Ellis held off a late Lucky Boy rally for a 10-9 Pony League win, while Jaycees romped past Rotary, 15-2, in Colt League play Friday night at Nichols Park.

John Ellis held a 10-2 lead before Lucky Boy came up with a seven-run sixth to get within one. Ellis jumped to a 5-1 lead in the first when brothers Paul and Gilbert Mosley tagged back-to-back home runs.

Jaycees had not trouble with Rotary, coming up with a pair of five-run innings and a four-run frame.

Concerning Pony League play, a protest lodged by Hertzberg concerning a 7-5 loss to Contractors earlier in the week was disallowed by a committee from the YMCA and two player agents of the two leagues. The game will stand as played.

Edge Over Twins

ST. PAUL — MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — Fred Whitfield drove in five runs with three singles and a three-run homer and reliever Dick Radatz choked off a late Minnesota rally as the Cleveland Indians edged the Twins 6-5 Friday night.

Radatz got the last out in the eighth inning after Minnesota scored once off Steve Hargan, who replaced Indian starter Luis Tiant in the fourth.

Whitfield homered in the seventh inning after Leon Wagner and Rocky Colavito singled. The 360-foot drive over the right field fence was Whitfield's fourth straight hit off Minnesota starter Jim Mudecat and Grant and erased a 4-3 Twins lead.

Whitfield, who had a pregame batting average of .216, also singled in runs in the first and third innings. Jim Landis hit a leadoff homer in the third for another Indian tally.
